Permission to use the materials above is hereby granted, provided:

1. That written permission for the intended use is secured by the requestor from the holder of copyright in the material when copyright is not held by Butler University. The author/presenter or publisher/sponsor agrees to obtain authorization from third parties as may be required for the use of the materials, including copyright and publicity rights.
2. That the author/presenter and/or publisher/sponsor assume(s) full and complete legal responsibility for any infringement of copyright that might occur from the use or publication of this material. The undersigned hereby indemnifies Butler University, its officers, and employees for any and all losses, costs, and legal fees that accrue to Butler University from failure of the undersigned to obtain appropriate permissions.
3. That full credit is given to Butler University Libraries as the source of the material. The credit line will read: “[Collection Name], Special Collections, Rare Books, and University Archives, Irwin Library, Butler University Libraries.”
4. That a copy of any publication or product resulting from the use of this material, including any publicity or related documentation, be given to Butler University Libraries for its documentary files. (This requirement is waived if signed by the Butler University Libraries representative) _____
5. That the requestor will not reuse or allow others to duplicate reproductions without permission of the Butler University Libraries and the Department of Special Collections, Rare Books, and University Archives. This reproduction is granted for one-time-only use.
6. That the completed project meets the commonly accepted standards of scholarship.
7. That this contract grants a one-time-only non-exclusive use of the requested materials. Subsequent or additional uses of the requested materials, beyond what is set forth in this agreement (e.g., books or jackets, CD or DVD covers, subsequent editions, websites, publicity, etc.), must be applied for and are subject to additional use fees.

In order to secure permission to use or quote from sources for which Butler University does not hold copyright, the following information is provided: _____
